

KNOWAH

Knowah began playing music out of high school starting with the bass guitar. His family, including his mother, a grandfather and two great grandfathers were accomplished and trained musicians; and he also gained inspiration from one of his sisters who plays guitar and sings. Though he almost completed his Associates college degree, English major and was once invited to play on a baseball scholarship, Knowah chose music for a career.

Knowah began performing locally with friends after leaving college and started several bands with longtime friend and bandmate, Thomas Kelley III; Dirty Sheets, Blake Miami and Space Coast Ghosts in Florida. He played many venues throughout south Florida and throughout the east coast of the United States and began meeting and playing with other musicians and winning local awards. Knowah's music presence grew with innate talent, hard work, working many different connections and personally sacrificing to develop his talents. Knowah plays guitar, bass, piano, sings and is an avid reader, writer and soulful performer known for a great ability to connect with his audience.

Knowah is sought out for song writing collaboration, tour management and performing. Knowah is known for creative wordsmithing and "philosorapping" with insightful lyrics that entertain and inspire. To date, Knowah has produced a solo album, Psalm Trees and written many of the songs found on the first album with The Arc Project of which he is a founding member. His talents include top notch interpersonal skills for working alongside other musicians and venues as well as writing, performing and tour management of other bands. Knowah's many musical collaborations have taken him to 48 states and 5 countries. What makes Knowah unique and sought out for collaborating with other musicians is his musical talent and performing experience he has worked hard to perfect over the past decade, and the vision he lives for that propels him into the future to fulfill his one goal, to entertain and inspire fans!
